WALKER, RICHARD L. 7.7/62

Name and Address | Military Rank | Date

Job: Sources:

Director, American Afro-Asian Educational Exchange, Inc. (1962 brochure)

Former Jobs:

Member, Emergency Committee for Chinese Refugees (N.Y. Times ad 6/7/62)

Board of Directors, American-Asian Educationa, Exchange, Inc

Offices and Affiliations: Ltr. head 3/30.62

Group Research

An author of Amer. Bar Assn [illegible] book [illegible] 1963

Ben Franklin tells me he has reviewed many books for NY Times [illegible]

(2 cards) Card 2

WALKER, RICHARD L.

RICHARD L. WALKER is Director of the Institute of International Studies and Head of the Department of International Studies, University of South Carolina. He has taught at Yale, Taiwan National University, and the National War College. He has published more than a score of articles in various journals and is author of The Multi-State System of Ancient China (1954), China Under Communism: The First Five Years (1955), China and the West: Cultural Collision (1956), and The Continuing Struggle: Communist China and the Free World (1958).

(from National Security, Political, Military and Economic Strategies in the Decade Ahead, ed. Abshire & Allen -- to which Walker contributed - based on proceedings of January 1962 Center for Strategic Studies conference.)

Might possibly be the same man listed as a member of the ~~Continuance~~ Committee of the CHRISTIAN RESISTANCE ~~COMMITTEE~~ (Booklet about the first anniversary rally of this organization in Pasadena Cal. 11/16/65) Christian Resistance File. Continuance of Groups Committee of

Director of the Institute of International Studies at the University of South Carolina
Author: "The West and the 'New Left'" (based on paper presented at the Fourth International Conference on "Elements of Change in Eastern Europe: Prospects for Freedom", Wiesbaden, West Germany, Sept. 1966) (Modern Age, Spring, 1967)

Speaker, Washington conf[illegible] of the Council Against Communi t Aggression ("Document" of the Council Against Communist Aggression with cover letter, March 1967)(U. Council . . .)

received grants of $[illegible].77 in 1964 and $[illegible].44 in 1965 from [illegible] INFO. CIRC. for Institute of [illegible] training readers of [illegible] Comm. on Educ'g Against Comm'n — 9/64 returns of [illegible]

Listed as Hon. Adviser to the Continental Research Institute. (masthead of The Peking Informers, dtd. 1 Dec. '65 in CRI file - P.L.)

Endorser: U.S.-China Policy Statement (published in Wash. Post 11/14/66, filed: China Policy)

Author: The China Dangers, American Bar Association, Standing Committee on Education about Communism and Its Contrast with Liberty Under Law, Chicago, Ill., 1966, $1.00 (CRI shelf)

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dr. Richard L. Walker is the James F. Byrnes Professor of International Relations and Director of the Institute of International Studies at the University of South Carolina. A graduate of Reed University, he received his MA. degree in Far Eastern and Russian Studies and his Ph.D. degree in International Relations from Yale University. He has taught at Yale, Tulane, National University, the University of Washington, and The National War College; and has lectured throughout the United States as well as in Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore and Australia.

Prior to study at Yale, Dr. Walker served in the U.S. Army as a Chinese interpreter during WW II. In 1957 he was keynote speaker for the U.S. delegation at the SEATO Seminar on Countering Communist Subversion. He has contacted and interviewed refugees from Communist China and made extensive studies of the problems of security in the Far East. In the spring of 1961 he was senior faculty adviser for The National War College group which made a tour of eleven countries of the Middle East and South Asia. For the past year he has been doing research [illegible] The Republic of China's National Archives, [illegible] United States in Taipei, Taiwan.

Dr. Walker has published five books, numerous articles and reviews. He is one of the authors and lecturers whose works are included in American Strategy for the Modern Age (Doubleday, 1960) and Peace and War in the Modern Age (Doubleday, 1965).